Professional Mixing Controller

The common music source for DJs was once vinyl, which shifted to CDs, and is now rapidly shifting to digital data files. Every time the source changes, the mixer must live up to its requirements, thus, connection with new hardware.

The PMC-05Pro Mk3 DX is a professional DJ mixer which comes with two independent line inputs and PGM direct outs for parallel connection to computers and USB audio devices. This enables the DJ to play with computer software in addition of standard vinyl mixing & scratching with a flick of the switch.

Each PGM channel is equipped with a direct out. Stable control with no noise interference is promised when scratching with a control signal record by sending signals to USB audio devices, which are level adjusted and RIAA equalized through the PMC-05Pro Mk3 DX's phono amplifier.

The DJ can mix the output sound from the computer individually, and switch between data control and standard vinyl/CD play easily with the direct out switch and independent line volume.
